

Published in the Human Horizons series

A guide to meeting the challenges in education for young people with specific learning difficulties

Ranging from study skills to budgeting and information on daily life, as well as advice on socialising and making friends, Amanda Kirby fills in the gap in the help available to those with learning difficulties.

Now available from bookshops, online retailers and wholesalers

How To Succeed in College and University with:

A Guide for Students,
Educators & Parents

Amanda Kirby

How to Succeed in College and University with Specific Learning Difficulties: A Guide for Students, Educators & Parents

Amanda Kirby

9780285642430 £12

Also available as an ebook at £8

How to Succeed in College and University with Specific Learning Difficulties fills a significant gap in the advice available to those with learning difficulties and provides an essential handbook for young people making a major step towards living independently. Covering the full range of learning difficulties that students may have: from those on the autism spectrum and dyslexia,

ADHD and communication disorders,
dyscalculia and dyspraxia

This book fills the need for relevant information for students, parents and teachers in a concise, readable and comprehensive way.

Specifically designed to be dyslexic friendly

At the heart of this book is its practical approach and collection of comprehensive advice in one accessible book. Amanda Kirby directs the reader to the further resources available, including a wide range of free apps and websites.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Professor Amanda Kirby is a former GP and Professor in Developmental Disorders in Education at the University of Wales. She founded, and has run, the Dyscovery Centre since 1997 and is also the author of Dyspraxia.

Now available from all good bookshops and online retailers (also available as an ebook) or from your usual supplier.

A companion volume, How to Succeed in Employment with Specific Learning Difficulties: A Guide for Employees and Employers, will be published in 2014.